SORB®XT is an official member of the Hochwasser Kompetenz Centrum e.V.!

We are delighted to be an official member of the HKC.

What has motivated us?

We cannot change the increase in heavy rainfall events in recent years with our products. However, what we can do is contribute to the prevention of such events and thus ensure greater safety for the population. This is best achieved through a network of scientists, professionals from industry, authorities and municipalities and the right product solutions!

As a manufacturer of Flood Cubes, the innovative way to combat flooding, we are now proud members of the HochwasserKompetenzCentrum (HKC). This partnership enables us to be at the forefront of research and practice in the field of flood protection. Our membership of the HKC gives us the opportunity to continuously develop our products in a hands-on way.
